

OREGON AVIAN PROTECTION PLANS

Reducing Electrical Impacts on Migratory Birds

US Fish and Wildlife Service • Office of Law Enforcement • Wilsonville and Klamath Falls, Oregon

Voluntary Compliance through Proactive and Innovative Partnerships 2004-2007

Local utility companies throughout Oregon are cooperating with the US Fish and Wildlife Service, Office of Law Enforcement, to develop Avian Protection Plans. The purpose of these Plans is to assess and reduce the impact of industrial hazards on federally-protected migratory birds.

Courtesy: Frank Isaacs, OSU, Corvallis, OR

